

Title: Socialism in Iran

Author: Ali Reza Eghbali, University of Payamnoor, Iran

Abstract

Political parties in Iran, mostly hold left –wing, government – oriented or socialist economic viewpoint. This issue is of great importance from two angles: First, the sources of this phenomenon and a recognition for this sources and second the result deduced from this phenomenon. Anyhow, in this article, the authors believe that parties in Iran are mostly of socialist types, which are divided into four groups through a general division. Traditional socialist parties such as the parties at the beginning of constitutionalism and Iran party, Marxist parties including Toudeh and Moslem social is party which all have their roots in the movement of socialism whose only famous and effective party. The third, force led by khalil Malacky.